Itinerary

Dujiangyan is the oldest and only surviving no-dam irrigation system in the world; a wonder in the development of Chinese science. The project consists of three important parts, namely Yuzui, Feishayan and Baopingkou scientifically designed to automatically control the water flow of the rivers from the mountains to the plains throughout the year.

Mt. Qingcheng is one of the most famous Taoist mountains in China. It is also a very attractive and intriguing scenic spot that is covered by luxuriant and verdant trees. The mountain, which is surrounded by numerous peaks and is shaped like a city, is dubbed 'the most peaceful and secluded mountain under heaven' and combines perfectly with its evergreen scenery.

Day 01 :

Dujiangyan Irrigation Day Tour

Morning to be met at your hotel lobby and transferred to Dujiangyan irrigation system, sightseeing at Yuzui, Feishayan and Baopingkou to know how the ancient people do the project and how it works. After lunch drive to visit Mt. Qingcheng, take a cable car up to visit the cultural relics and historic sites in the mountains, such as Jianfu Palace, Shangqing Palace, and the Tianshi Cave, etc., then take the cable car down, but if time is enough, we highly suggest you walk down (normally it takes 3 hours). Afterwards drive back to Chengdu and transfer you to your hotel, end the tour.
